Collective wage agreement for food service

Between the

Bundesverband der Systemgastronomie e.V., represented by the chairmanship
Wilhelm-Wagenfeld-Straße 18, 80807 Munich
(hereinafter referred to as the ‘BdS’)

and the

Gewerkschaft Nahrung-Genuss-Gaststätten, represented by the chief executive committee
Haubachstraße 76, 22765 Hamburg
(hereinafter referred to as ‘Gewerkschaft NGG’)

Article 1 Scope of application

1. Territorial:
   This wage agreement is effective on the territory of the Federal Republic of Germany.

2. Professional:
   Applies to businesses and companies of the food service industry which are regular members of the BdS.

3. Individual-related:
   This wage agreement governs the labour conditions of all employees including apprentices who are members of Gewerkschaft NGG and are employed at businesses and companies which are members of the BdS.
   This wage agreement does not apply to members of the board of directors, managing directors and other legal representatives of the member companies, nor does it apply to employees with managerial duties in the sense of Section 5 Para. 3 of the Works Constitution Act.

Article 2 Classification and wage brackets

1. Employees shall be allocated to the applicable wage bracket upon being hired. A remuneration exceeding the one or all of the wage brackets may be negotiated on the basis of individual agreement (income above the general pay scale).
2. Employees shall be allocated to wage brackets in accordance with their primary tasks based on sample tasks. The professional or operational title is not the sole decisive factor when allocating an employee to a wage bracket. If a task consists of multiple individual tasks which would be allocated to different wage brackets when regarded individually, the classification shall be determined based on the predominate individual task. In the rotation system, the task predominately consists of alternating individual tasks of varying nature. Employees who work in the rotation system shall be allocated to wage bracket 1 a/b at the beginning of their employment. After completing the training period, they shall be allocated to wage bracket 2. Employees may not be arbitrarily denied the assignment of individual tasks in a rotation system which are necessary for allocation to wage bracket 3. In the event of a dispute, the employer shall present his reasons for the denial and, in the event of a legal dispute, substantiate them. Tasks in the rotation system which a member company has transferred entirely to a third company are not taken into account with respect to allocation to wage bracket 3.

The specification of task and position descriptions together with examples in the wage brackets does not obligate the member businesses and companies to apply them at their full range, particularly if doing so is not possible due to fields of activities which are not present or the tasks actually being performed are limited to particular wage brackets.

3. Definitions:

- Rotation system:

  Employment in a rotation system means rolling tasks in the various work areas of the restaurant. This includes in particular tasks in the dining area, service area incl. cash register, product and beverage stations in the kitchen area which relate to all tasks involved in the preparation and manufacture of products and product ingredients (such as chips, grill and frying stations, salad and dessert preparation), including all necessary assistance, cleaning and disinfection work. Furthermore, tasks in the rotation system also include cleaning work in the restaurant’s lavatories.

- Power of supervision:

  A task or position description which is based on a power of supervision entails the professional supervision of production and work processes and compliance to the standards of said processes without disciplinary and employment contract-related measures and arrangements being taken. Positions with supervisory powers include in particular the positions of crew trainer, crew chief, production leader, cash register supervisor as well as team & champs partner.

---

2 By day- or nighttime
- Managerial authority:

A task or position description which is based on managerial authority pertains only to a position in which disciplinary and employment contract-related measures and arrangements beyond the (professional) power of supervision may be taken.

- Successful completion of internal qualification procedures:

By offering internal qualification procedures, the member companies shall ensure that suitable employees are granted access to said procedures based on defined requirement profiles in consideration of the respective interests of the individual businesses which upon successful completion of the qualification procedure constitute the prerequisite for allocation to a higher wage bracket in the event of actual performance of the task in question. The successful completion of the qualification procedure does not result in entitlement to actual employment in the respective position.

4. If the wage bracket is changed in the scope of the specified task and position descriptions including examples due to the duration of the activity actually performed, the duration of the activity actually performed in the existing employment excluding the times at which the employment is suspended is decisive.

For employees, who shift between restaurants of the same franchisee, between franchisees of the same franchisesystem/brand or between franchisor and franchisee of the same franchisesystem/brand, the previous employment is taken into account, when they are assigned to a WB. On condition that the one month probation period was successfully completed and the period of time between the two employment periods doesn't exceed the period of nine month can be accomplished.

With part-time employees, the duration of the activity actually performed is extended until the change of wage bracket from wage bracket 1b to wage bracket 2 in accordance with the respective part time proportion, i.e. in accordance with the proportion of contractual work time to the regular work time of a full-time employee. However, it may not be extended by more than three months.

5. In the event of proxies in which an employee predominately performs a task from a higher wage bracket for a period exceeding one month, said employee shall receive the corresponding higher remuneration for the period of the proxy. However, this does not entitle the employee to be allocated to a higher wage bracket.

6. With regards to the task and position descriptions including examples specified in the wage brackets which require successful completion of an internal qualification procedure, the employer shall ensure that the entry prerequisites for internal qualification procedures are transparent by means of defined requirement profiles. Employees who match the respective requirement profile and apply for entry to commensurate qualification procedures shall be granted entry to said procedures in consideration of operational as well as economic interests. The employer shall objectively substantiate the rejection of an application for entry to an internal qualification procedure at the employee's request.

7. Wages are classified in wage brackets 1 through 12 based on the task and position descriptions specified there together with the examples cited therein:

Wage bracket 1

2. Delivery drivers in the wage area West receive € 7,00 per hour and in the wage area East € 6,50 per hour.

3. The East gross wages apply to the federal states of Thuringia, Mecklenburg-Vorpommern, Saxony, Saxony-Anhalt and Brandenburg (wage area East). The West gross wages apply to the federal states of Baden-Württemberg, Bavaria, Bremen, Hamburg, Hesse, Lower Saxony, North Rhine-Westphalia, Rhineland-Palatinate, Saarland, Schleswig-Holstein and Berlin (wage area West).

4. The two contract parties aim to achieve a wage balance between the wage areas east and west. The goal is to adjust the level of compensation, under simultaneous consideration of the macroeconomic developments and the cost-turnover development of the member enterprises of the BdS in the wage area east.

5. If agreed upon, the employer may offset wage components above the general pay scale with the pay scale wage increase. This may also be done retroactively if the pay scale wage is retroactively increased. This also applies in the event of a higher classification.

Article 4 Reference values of the wage tables

The gross monthly wages established in the tables of Article 3 are based on full-time employment. The scope of full-time employment is based on the number of hours in the regular work schedule established in Article 4 Number 1 of the framework agreement on employment conditions.
With part-time employees, the gross monthly wage is determined according to the gross hourly wage established in the tables of Article 3 and the contractual work hours.

Article 5  Preclusion period

All pay scale-related and contractual claims arising from employment are to be asserted in written form within a preclusion period of four months as of their due date. Claims which are not asserted in written form within this period shall be forfeited.

If the written assertion remains unsuccessful, the claim shall be asserted in court within three months as of the rejection or, as the case may be, within seven months since the claim’s due date if a rejection is not explicitly made. If the claim is not legally asserted within this period of time, it shall be forfeited.

The regulations on assertion and legal assertion apply equally to employers and employees.

Article 6 Final provisions

1. Period of validity and entry into legal effect

   This wage agreement enters into legal effect on December 1st 2011. It may be terminated for the first time on November 30th 2014, with a period of notice of three months. With the notice of termination the two contract parties commit themselves to resume negotiations, so they can place a new collective wage agreement without delay.

   In case the reduced purchase tax of 7% for delivered food (external sale) is increased or in case the value-added tax (19%) is reduced, a special right of termination comes into effect for both parties. A termination can be declared within an appropriate time- (one week before the end of the month).

2. Vested rights

   No reduction in the gross rage may take place through the entry into legal effect of this wage agreement and as result of its application. This applies only to the employment conditions already existing at the time this wage agreement enters into legal effect.

3. Publication

   This wage agreement shall be publicised at the businesses which fall under its field of application at a suitable location. It is generally a hung or presented on a bulletin board.
4. Replacement of previous wage agreements

With this collective wage agreement coming into effect previous wage agreements are replaced.
